FOR PRESS, RADIO and TELEVISION

This is your 1959 Maryland football brochure, "The 50-Yard Line." It is published in hope that it offers you helpful information for your coverage of Terp games this season. With this book goes an invitation to you to visit us as often as possible in our offices in Cole Field House. In return, I will try to visit you as often as I can and extend every assistance possible. For any information, you can reach me day and night at UNion 4-4076.

Applications for tickets should be made the first part of the week of the game to allow time for mailing. Wire and telephone requirements should be made through your local Western Union office.

Every effort will be made to furnish all the services in the press box available, so that your accounts of the game can be most adequate for your readers. Statistics, both half-time and final figures; a quarter play-by-play; game leaders in all departments; substitutions, etc. will be ready a few minutes after the game.

Many thanks for all your cooperation and favors of the past.

JOE F. BLAIR
Sports Publicity Director

DR. WILSON H. ELKINS

PRESIDENT, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Dr. Wilson Homer Elkins assumed the Presidency of the University of Maryland on September 1, 1954. His formal inauguration as the twenty-first head of the institution took place on January 20, 1955.

He has brought to the University of Maryland an outstanding professional record of proven leadership in educational administration, and an unusual background of high scholastic achievement and demonstrated athletic ability during his undergraduate and graduate career.

At Maryland, he has stressed the obligation of the state to provide a quality education for all Maryland youth who demonstrate their capacity to learn. On the subject of sports, he has said that values and attitudes developed in activities outside of the classroom, including football, are important elements of a liberal education.

Dr. Elkins is a native Texan. He was a Rhodes Scholar from 1933 to 1936. He received the B. Litt. and D. Phil. degrees from Oxford University, England, in 1936. He received his undergraduate education at the University of Texas from 1928 to 1932. At Texas he earned eight varsity letters in football, basketball and track. He was elected president of the Student Association and captain of the basketball team in his senior year. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Omicron Delta Kappa. He was graduated from the University of Texas in 1932 with B.A. and M.A. degrees. In addition, he holds two honorary degrees: a Doctor of Laws from Washington College in 1954 and a Doctor of Laws from The Johns Hopkins University in 1955.

Dr. Elkins began his professional career in education as an instructor in history at the University of Texas in 1936. He held two presidencies prior to assuming this office at the University of Maryland. From 1938 to 1949, he was President of San Angelo Junior College, San Angelo, Texas; and he was president of Texas Western College, a branch of the University of Texas, from 1949 to 1954.

In 1937, Dr. Elkins was married to the former Dorothy Blackburn of Berclair, Tex. They have two daughters, Carole Ann and Margaret Elise.

WILLIAM W. COBEY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

One of the most respected and most popular figures in Athletics today, William W. Cobey continues to give his every effort to make the athletic program at the University of Maryland one of the best in the country.

During the three years that he has been the Director of Athletics, Cobey has seen the Terrapins dominate the Atlantic Coast Conference championships in the twelve recognized championship sports.

Prior to his appointment in February of 1946, Cobey was Graduate Manager of Athletics for nine years. It was he who administered and handled the vast overall athletic program. His program called for all the scheduling for all sports except football, heading the business office, and making the numerous arrangements that accompanied the success of the program.

Long devotion to the University wasn't new to the affable Cobey. He came to the Athletic Department after having served 17 years as Cashier of the University.

The Cobey name is not new, even to old-time University graduates. Bill's father, W. W. Cobey, was a 1901 graduate and a letterman in track and manager of the baseball team. He became a famous agricultural scientist and while in Florida, he was one of the pioneers in the discovery of leaf tobacco. Cobey also had two uncles graduate from the University.

Bill, as he is known to the many friends he has made around home and throughout the athletic fraternity, came to Maryland in the fall of 1926 following graduation from Fort Meyer, Fla. High School. Born and raised in Quincy, still his native home, Cobey attended Quincy schools through eleventh grade before the family moved to Fort Meyer.

After playing freshman lacrosse, Cobey had to cast aside any athletic team participation in order that he might get a job to help him through school. This employment was in the Cashier's office where he worked until his graduation in 1930. He belonged to the Kappa Alpha Fraternity while an undergraduate.

Following graduation, he returned to Quincy, Fla., and worked with his uncle on a truck farm. He returned to the University to accept the job as Cashier of the University. It was this job he held for 17 years, until 1948 when he accepted the position as Graduate Manager of Athletics. Then came the appointment as Director of Athletics, February 1, 1956.

Cobey is active in community affairs, having been a past president of University Park PTA; councilman for University Park two years, first president of the University branch of the Maryland Classified Employee's Assn.; and is active in the College Park Rotary Club.

Cobey married the former Mary Gray Munroe, also of Quincy, Fla., in 1935. They have six children, three daughters and three sons. Their oldest daughter, Mary Patricia, is a graduate of the University; William is a Pre-Med. Student at Emory College; Julia Ann is a Sophomore at the University, while Betty is in eleventh grade. A son, Elwood is in eighth grade while the baby of the family, Munroe, is in second grade.

The Cobey's are members of the University Methodist Church, College Park.

TOM NUGENT

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

The University of Maryland's gridiron fortunes for the next four years have been given to one of the game's finest young football minds, Tom Nugent. The popular young master of one of football's most imaginative and successful offensive formations, the "I," begins his first year at College Park with sincere expectations of bringing to Maryland the winning formula in future years.

Of the 46-year old former Florida State head coach and athletic director, Maryland President Dr. Wilson H. Elkins commented: "We are most fortunate in securing Tom Nugent as our football coach. He is an exceptionally fine man, one of fine character and one who definitely will be accepted by the University, our community, and press. Nugent has had fine records and has had successful experience as head coach and athletic director. His football is original with an interesting style of play."

Nugent has gathered together an outstanding staff that has many years of coaching experience. Their future depends not on this year's record or even the next, for it will take these first years to train and coach the personnel that enroll on the College Park campus this fall, the next, and the next. With the material already here upon his arrival and the influence of the outstanding players he will bring to Maryland in the future, Nugent will mold the teams of the new era. The freshman class for the 1959 season that Nugent and his staff enrolled, is believed to be one of the finest ever to enter the University. The Terp staff got a very, very late start recruiting because of the late date that Nugent took over the helm, but worked tirelessly with the results overwhelmingly satisfactory.

The thoughts are that Nugent will do the job for he often is referred to as the "magician" of football in the South. He has had two former assignments, V.M.I. and Florida State and brought both from obscurity to success, through winning records. There is little reason to believe the same won't be accomplished here, for he and his staff have access to a much better area for recruiting through the excellent geographic location of the University.

The sharp-minded new Terrapin mentor has become known nationally for his bright innovations. It was Nugent who presented to football the now famous "I" formation, the typewriter huddle, and the double quarterback. The coaching fraternity considers his new football wrinkles the finest and most exciting.

In 1954, he started the Florida State Football Clinic and saw it develop to be considered the top football clinic in the country. The 1958 clinic attracted nearly 1000 coaches from all parts of the country. His program was headlined by a "Who's Who" of big name coaches each year.

Nugent's first head coaching job was at Virginia Military Academy. In four years, 1949-52, he compiled a 19-18-2 record. The 1951 season found the Keydets tied with Maryland for the Southern Conference championship. Both had 5-0 marks in the league. It was during this season, his team scored a mighty upset over Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

The affable Nugent moved to Florida State for the season of 1953 and in six years his Seminoles had been brought out of the football doldrums and became known to all as he guided his teams to 34 victories, 27 defeats, and one tie. His ten-year record reads 53 wins, 45 losses, and three ties.

A native of Lawrence, Mass., he attended and graduated from Ithaca College in 1936.

He married the former Peg Foley, and they have nine children, four girls and five boys—Tommy, 16; Kerry, 15; Peggy, 13; T. D., 11; Patty, 9; Timmy, 5; Mary Ann, 4; Jerry, 3; and John Michael, one.

ASSISTANT COACHES

BILL "WHITEY" DOVELL

A 1953 graduate from the School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health, Dovell has been a member of the Terp staff since that time.

The former Terp guard was appointed freshman coach and also assisted the varsity and scouted future Terp opponents. As freshman coach, he led the Terp yearlings to three winning seasons, highlighted by the 1955 undefeated team. The '55 frosh unit represented the first and only freshman team to have an unblemished record. The big game was the final one of the season. It was the much publicized "international" grid attraction between the Terp frosh and Mexico Polytechnic Institute. Playing across the border in Mexico City, Dovell's team won 26-13.

Following the '55 season, he became assistant line coach, a post he has held since.

New head coach Tom Nugent retained Dovell as a member of his staff on the splendid recommendations of others who know of Dovell's value and as one to whom Nugent could turn to in helping to evaluate the Terp team he inherited.

Dovell also handles the film library. On and off the field, he is a constant hardworking coach and perfectionist of line play.

He married the former Clair Benson. They have two daughters.

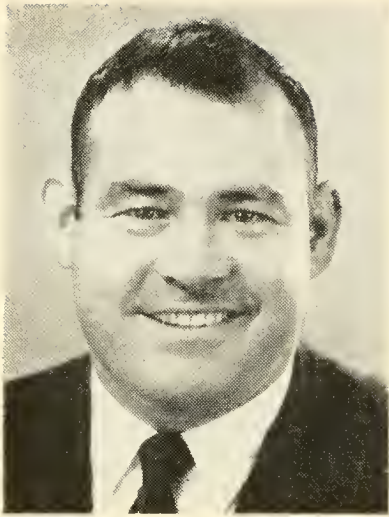

LEE CORSO

The sudden rise of Florida State under Nugent was accelerated greatly when Nugent came up with a great quarterback, Lee Corso. To this day, the wiry little Corso is "Mr. Quarterback" at Florida State. His outstanding inspirational play brought the Seminoles under Nugent very much into the grid picture across the country as the magician who made the "I" formation known. That is one of the reasons Nugent kept him on as a member of his staff following graduation. With the move to Maryland, Nugent naturally wanted Corso to follow, and he did.

A native of Miami, Fla., Corso had a brilliant career in football, baseball, and basketball. He was selected first team all-State in each sport his senior year. He won the honor in basketball also his junior year. Also, he was named "Athletic-Scholar of the Year" his final term and was on the all-Southern

Nugent persuaded Bernie Reid, one of the most popular and most successful high school coaches in the South, to be a member of his new staff.

Reid, enjoying great success at Albany, Ga. High School, comes to Maryland with an outstanding reputation and rave notices on his accomplishments from the Southern press.

The 34-year old Reid is a native of Hamilton, Ohio. He graduated from Hamilton High in 1942 where he was a three year star and a weight man on the track team.

Following his high school graduation, he entered the University of Cincinnati that fall. He stayed long enough to play the freshman grid schedule, then enlisted in the Merchant Marine where he stayed 18 months

Discharged in January of 1944, he entered the University of Georgia in the spring semester. He played the fall of '44 for Coach Wally Butts as a guard but the Army then called him into the service, in December. He served in Germany 22 months with the 78th Infantry. He was discharged in January of 1947.

He returned to Georgia and completed his studies and played his junior and senior seasons. He graduated in June of 1949. Reid was Captain of the team his senior year and was first team all-Southeast

ALF SATTERFIELD

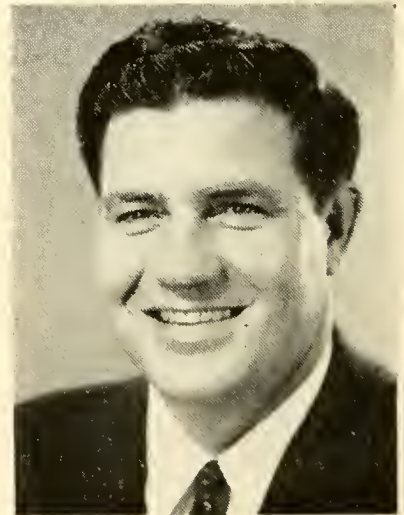

For the past several seasons, V.P.I. has returned to be one of the finer teams in the South, and much of the credit for their success, their great line play, and top defense is attributed to Alf Satterfield, another of the very outstanding men brought to Maryland by Nugent. With his top coaching abilities, Satterfield is considered one of the best recruiters in football.

The 36-year old Satterfield comes to Maryland after eight years at V.P.I. as their line coach and after helping develop their grid fortunes back to the winning ledger.

A native of Russellville, Ark., he attended that high school and graduated in 1940. There he was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball. He lettered all three years in each sport. A center in football, he was named to the all-State first team his senior year. He also was chosen to play in the first high school all-American game in Memphis, Tenn.

Following graduation, he entered Vanderbilt University and played

The final addition to the staff brought back to Maryland a familiar face and a warm welcome by many of his former associates, Charlie Guy, a former head coach at Johns Hopkins and assistant coach at Virginia.

Guy, in business in recent years, has outstanding athletic background as a player and coach. He is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1945; was athletic director and football coach at Bullis Prep School, Silver Spring, Md., was assistant football coach at the University of Virginia and then head football coach at Johns Hopkins for two years.

Following his graduation from New Trier High School, Chicago in 1941, he attended Severn Prep School, Severn, Md. There he was captain of the football team and played lacrosse and was on the wrestling team. Then he entered the Naval Academy and was a three sport star. He played end on the football team; was a defenseman in lacrosse, and wrestled. He was all-America two years in lacrosse and won the Schmeisser Award as the outstanding defenseman in the State in 1945. He also was Captain of the 1945 lacrosse team.

He then entered the service and served on several amphibious ships

ROLAND ARRIGONI

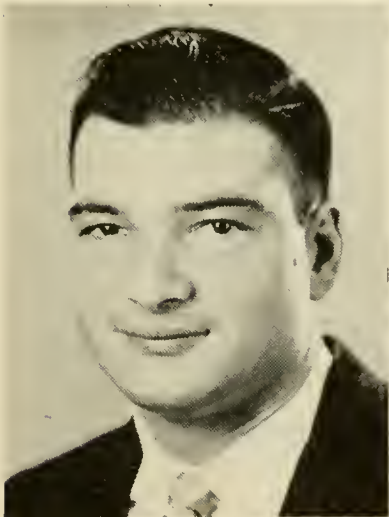

Given one of the biggest and most important assignments, Roland Arrigoni has been delegated by Nugent as the coach of the all-important 1959 freshman team.

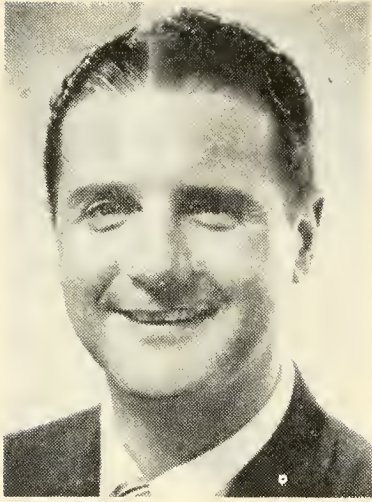

Nugent brought the 25-year old Arrigoni to Maryland with him after serving with him last season at Florida State. Nugent believes the hard-working conscientious Arrigoni has one of the best coaching futures that will be aided greatly with experience.

Arrigoni is a native of Chicago, but moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico at a young age and received his early schooling there. He attended Albuquerque High School, graduating in June of 1951. There he lettered three years in football as a tackle and three years as a catcher in baseball.

He entered the University of New Mexico in the fall of 1951. He graduated in 1956 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education. While at New Mexico, he was a star tackle for three years and again lettered three years in baseball as a catcher. He was offered a chance to enter the New York Yankee farm system, but his service

When Nugent came to Maryland, there was a coach on his staff at Florida State that he wanted very much to come with him. Frank Toomey accepted his call.

Toomey brings with him one of the finest reputations as a backfield coach in college football today. He is highly regarded, respected, and considered one of the best. Also, he is known widely, and by Nugent and his past teams in particular, as one of the top scouts of the game. With his backfield chores, he will be one of the chief scouts of future opponents. He also is a fine recruiter.

The serious, hard-working Toomey graduated from Ithaca College and following his 4-year tour of duty in the Marine Corps, returned to Ithaca to receive his Master's Degree. While with the Marines, he won a Presidential Citation and the Purple Heart.

While working on his Master's, he coached the Ithaca varsity backfield and freshman basketball and varsity baseball teams.

After completing work on his Degree, Toomey went to Waverly, N. Y. High School as head coach in 1948. He compiled the enviable record of 39 wins against eight losses. He also coached the baseball team at Waverly.

He went to Florida State as Nugent's assistant in 1954 and has been with him since. He was responsible for developing the backs of FSU that in recent years have become known nationally.

He is married and has a son, Michael, 7.

THE TRAINERS

ALFRED J. "Duke" WYRE

"Duke" Wyre, one of the nation's top athletic trainers, begins his 13th year as head trainer for Maryland athletic teams this fall.

The "Dapper Duke" came to Maryland in '47 as the Terrapins were undergoing a complete re-organization of the staff. Today the tremendously popular and respected Terp trainer is known throughout the training world as one of its finest. He heads two of the most modern and best equipped training rooms in the country.

Many honors have come his way in his many years of taking care of many athletes. Perhaps the most cherished and most honored is and will be his selection to be one of the eight United States trainers for the 1960 Olympic Games to be held in Rome. His appointment is the culmination of these many years as a trainer. In 1956, he was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the National Trainers' Association, a position which he still holds.

He has authored many articles and manuals on training methods, and is always in demand to give lectures on athletic training methods at numerous clinics. He also has devised various equipment pieces that are used for athletic injuries and prevention of injuries.

Wyre was trainer at Yale for 15 years before he moved to Holy

BILL "Spider" FRY

Starting his fourth year as Wyre's full-time assistant, Bill "Spider" Fry returned to his alma mater in 1956 following his service hitch with the Air Force.

Fry worked four years as a student assistant for Wyre in the Terp training room while attending the University. Following his discharge in June 1955, he returned to Maryland and entered Graduate School. When the opening occurred for an assistant trainer, he was appointed.

A native of Norristown, Pa., Fry attended Elkton High School, Md., where he played and lettered for three years in soccer and basketball.

He entered the University in the fall of 1946 and graduated with a B.S. Degree from the School of Physical Education.

Following graduation in June of 1950, he went into the Air Force and was assigned to jet Engine training. During his four years, he was stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Base in Tucson and Great Falls Air Base, Montana, assigned to jet duty. He also was trainer for the base athletic teams.

THE 1959 TERPS

The University of Maryland's gridiron fortunes for the next four years have been given to one of the games' finest young football minds, Tom Nugent. The popular young master of one of football's most imaginative and successful offensive formations, the "I", begins his first year at College Park with sincere expectations of bringing to Maryland the winning formula in future years.

Nugent, who in his ten years of head coaching, brought V.M.I. and Florida State winning football teams, inherits a Terrapin team that had a 4-6 log for the 1958 season. It will be a couple of years before he can build his own team, a goal that he assures will be realized with his every effort.

Too, Nugent must start at Maryland by facing the usual rugged Conference and intersectional schedule. The Red and White plays each Atlantic Coast Conference school with the exception of Duke. The intersectional schedule calls for games with West Virginia, Texas, Syracuse, and Navy. To make the road more difficult, the 'Terps play the Mountaineers, Longhorns, and Orangemen the opening three weeks of the season.

The sharp-minded new Terrapin mentor inherits a team that lost 16 lettermen from the '58 team. There are 20 lettermen returning: three at quarterback, four at halfback, one fullback, two centers, four guards, four tackles, and two ends.

Most notable losses were end Ben Scotti, tackles Fred Cole and Ed Nickla, guards Ron Laneve and Fred Kern, quarterbacks Bob Rusevlyan and Dick Lewis, and halfbacks Bob Layman and Ted Kershner. Scotti, Cole, Rusevlyan, Layman and Kershner were on the first team.

Returning from the '58 first unit are end Ron Shaffer, tackle Kurt Schwarz, guards Rodney Breedlove and Tom Gunderman, center Victor Schwartz, and fullback Jim Joyce. In his search for talent to place his personnel where best suited, Nugent during spring drills moved Shaffer from end to tackle; Schwarz from tackle to guard; and Breedlove from guard to halfback. Joyce represents the lone starter returning in the backfield. All changes looked excellent in spring practice. Shaffer and Schwarz were then moved back to their end and tackle positions in late summer.

With only 19 days of spring drills to "learn" his personnel and teach them his offensive and defensive principles, Nugent and staff were pleased with the results. They held the all-pro, all-America alumni team to a 16-9 win and could have had a victory except for two touchdown passes dropped. The Terps blocked exceptionally well, had no penalties called on them, and were tough defensively.

Nugent's big job is to find a quarterback. He had two returnees in Dick Scarbath and Dale Betty to accompany upcoming sophs Dick Novak and Don Henry. Scarbath broke a bone in his hand the second day of spring drills, denying Nugent a look at him. Fleet junior halfback Dwayne Fletcher was moved into the signal calling post and he along with Novak and Henry took charge of the teams in spring drills. Nugent also says that he must develop deep backs, and get the right combination offensively. From the early drills, it will be touch and go between Fletcher, Novak, and Scarbath at quarterback, with Joyce at

OPPONENTS' OUTLOOK

West Virginia University

By EDGAR BARRETT

With the loss of more than half of the lettermen who compiled a 4-5-1 record in 1958, West Virginia's football outlook would appear dim. But a host of good-looking sophomores promise to make the season interesting for fans and opponents. There were 42 sophomores on the 67-man roster issued in the spring.

Coach Art Lewis went through his first losing season in eight years but the Mountaineers finished strong. Four defeats came by a total of 17 points. They outplayed Syracuse's Orange Bowl team, losing 15-12, and tied Penn State 14-14. Lewis is rounding out a decade at West Virginia.

Here are the factors in the 1959 football outlook:

Experience: Five regulars and six members of the alternate unit return; a total of 14 of 30 who lettered last season. The problem continues to be the attrition of those who matriculated in 1956; only four are on hand as seniors to lead the team. There are all sophomores vying at right guard and right end and a real shortage of material at the tackles.

System: Split linemen, flankers, man in motion, belly series, rollout plays. Two alternate teams will be used again.

Backfield: Most important loss is QB Dick Longfellow, who ranked sixth nationally in passing, seventh in total offense. Danny Williams moves into the starter's role, is a good runner and pass defender. Carmen Pomponio logically advances to lead the alternate team, and a volunteer, Dale Evans, has looked the best of a rookie quintet. Ray Peterson and Dave Rider hold over as regular halves, though John Marra and sophs Dick Herrig and Jim Bargeloh are pressing for their jobs. Third stringer Bob Benke is back at full, 1955 letterman Tom Huston is back from service and soph Curt Harmon hopes to make it interesting at this position.

Line: A fairly strong first line looms but only the center post has much depth. Ben McComb and Tony Tallarico are experienced at one end, but the other shows all sophs including Ray Borlie, Dave Hess and Bob Lavelle. A stalwart is left tackle Carl Dannenberg, and Pete Tolley will shore up the other side unless needed to back up the line. Bill Lopasky returns as the left, or middle guard. Right guard is a toss-up among Paul Gatton, Fred Adkins and Bill Winter, all newcomers. Center is well fixed, with Chuck Billak who started the first four games before being injured, Joe Wirth who started the last six, and Charles Lanasa, their understudy.

Sophomores: Certain to start at right guard (Gatto, Adkins or Winter) and right end (Borlie, Hess, Lavelle). Bargeloh and Herrig are battling Rider at right half, and Harmon should make it at fullback. Among other good prospects are end Bob Timmerman and tackles John Peters and Fred Deluzio.

Kickers: Williams is a proven fine punter, averaged 36.6 yards last year. Huston, Timmerman and Marra are prospects.

Outstanding Players: LT Carl Dannenberg stepped into a strange position and started the Pitt game, beginning when West Virginia was an improved team. LG Bill Lopasky won his spurs in the Oklahoma game, blocking a punt and scoring a touchdown, starred on defense. LH Ray Peterson has gained 727 yards rushing, 270 on 21 pass receptions, 380 on 25 runbacks, scored six touchdowns as a varsity performer. QB Danny Williams has plenty of tools needed at his position. LE Ben McComb, C Chuck Billak, RT Pete Tolley and RH Dave Rider are above-average veterans.

University of Texas

By WILBUR EVANS

Coach Darrell Royal has always operated on the premise that a good defense will win more football games than offense. The Longhorns play percentages, employ the quick kick more than most teams and try to keep the opposition under intense pressure in its end of the field.

Last Fall Texas operated with few speedsters, a situation deplored by Royal. The outlook is better this year, particularly in the backfield. Half-back Rene Ramirez is no comet, but the galloping gaucho was the team's second ranking rusher last Fall and shared touchdown honors with quarterback Bobby Laekey, each with five.

Ramirez and Lackey are among nine returning lettermen backs but upcoming sophomore stars could shove either aside. Jack Collins, a member of the Steers' unbeaten freshman squad last year, is a fine halfback with a deceptive change of pace. Two soph quarterbaeks, Mike Cotten and James Saxton, furnish a startling injection of speed and fullback Don Allen is a dependable short yardage man. Allen will serve as co-captain with end Monte Lee.

Lackey, who played the second highest number of minutes (334) last year, is an all-round performer, dependable on defense and showing occasional brilliance offensively. He also averaged 40 yards as a punter.

The Texas line will be big, strong and experienced. Only guard Bob Harwerth is shy of the 200-pound level but he is a bristling competitor and line-backer at 190 pounds. Harwerth is called "Spook" because he is so hard to block. Tackle Tillman O'Brien (220), and ends Lee (205) and Mauriee Duke (200) are capable of earning All-Conference consideration.

The additional backfield speed will offer the Longhorns more striking power than in recent years.

Syracuse University

By VAL PINCHBECK, JR.

Schwartzwalder Says: "The 1959 season should be an interesting one, but I'd sure hate to have to pick wins and losses. We have a number of good-looking boys back from last year, but our schedule is a good deal tougher and we have to start over from scratch at a key position, quarterbaek. I'd say that our depth will be respectable, but team speed still remains a problem. A couple of things are for sure, though. We'll hustle, and our kids won't be afraid to make contact with the enemy."

Outstanding Returnees:

Roger Davis . . . An agile 6-3, 228-pound former high school end, this smooth-working guard should bid strongly for All-American honors. Syracuse best football player, according to Schwartzwalder. Ranked even with All-American Ron Luciano as a forward by many last season. Excellent bloeker. Quick linebacker, too.

Gerhard Schwedes . . . German-born athlete who led SU in both rushing and pass receiving from right half post last fall. Not a speedster, but an exceptionally hard runner. Averaged 4.3 per carry in 1958. Firm tackler on defense and team leader. A 6-1, 187-pounder.

Dave Baker . . . Fearless-type end who picked up 231 yards on 10 pass receptions last season. Former halfback with fine speed that helps on both offense and defense. A 6-1, 187-pounder who missed spring drills with a bad leg.

Art Baker . . . A 6-0 205-pound speedster who led the front-line ball carriers in average with a 4.7 mark. One of the standouts of spring practice. Much improved on defense. NCAA 191-pound wrestling champion.

Others to Watch:

Maury Youmans . . . Elongated 6-6, 220-pound tackle who came fast after being switched from end last year. Should be a top-notch performer.

Bruce Tarbox . . . A surprise package last season. A 6-2, 212-pound tackle.

Bob Yates . . . Hefty 6-1, 220-pound tackle who doubles as SU's left footed place kicker.

Fred Mautino . . . A 6-3 end who is rugged on defense.

Bob Thomas . . . Aggressive senior who will probably open season at Key quarterback spot. Tossed three TD passes against Cornell in '58.

Dave Applehof . . . Veteran center. Blocks well on offense.

Al Bemiller . . . Junior center who may displace veteran Applehof as starting pivot.

Tom Gilburg . . . Lanky 6-4 end who ranked second in East in punting with 39.4 average last season.

Gerry Skonieczki . . . Fine pass-catching end who could beat Mautino out of right end job.

Mark Weber . . . Hard-running 196-pound left half who could move into starting job if rookie Ernie Davis falters.

Diek Reimer . . . Right half who was No. 3 scorer in '58. Good speed and quick on defense.

Dave Sarette . . . Good prospect at quarterback who was inactive in '58.

Outstanding Sophomore Prospects:

Ernie Davis . . . A 6-2, 205-pound sprinter who also hits hard. Ran wild with unbeaten frosh eleven last fall, gaining over 100 yards rushing in three of four games. Called top prospect to appear at SU since Jim Brown. Could develop rapidly.

Ken Ericson . . . Transfer student who will keep more seasoned ends on toes. Come rapidly during spring sessions.

Diek Feidler . . . Converted end who should win guard spot with alternate unit.

Bob Stem . . . Rookie center rated highly by coaching staff.

Pete Brokaw . . . Quarterback with excellent speed.

Wake Forest College

By MARVIN FRANCIS

With 10 lettermen, including six who were regulars at the close of the 1958 campaign, slated for starting assignments this fall, the Wake Forest grid outlook appears most promising.

"We'll be bigger and stronger and have a little more depth," is the way Coach Paul Amen sizes up the situation, but he hastens to add that a lack of experience among the reserves could be a big problem.

Several sophomores are being counted on to furnish front-line reserve action, and how fast these newcomers develop could be a major factor in the success of the team.

Interior line positions, especially at guard, gave the Deacon coaching staff its biggest concern during spring practice. Veteran Nick Patella is the lone experienced guard while none of the four lettermen tackles saw a great deal of action last fall. To help the guard situation, Amen moved Carl Blum from halfback and Bob Irwin from fullback.

End Pete Manning, a second team All-ACC selection last fall, center Buck Jolly and Patella are expected to anchor the forward wall.

Norman Snead, another second team All-ACC choice last year, heads the backfield which will have more size and better speed. Snead has added 20 pounds to his 6-4 frame and expects to play at 200 pounds.

There are four lettermen halfbacks along with converted fullback Bill Skippon. Veterans Neil MacLean, the Club's leading scorer and top groundgainer the past two seasons, and Joe Bonecutter provide an excellent one-two fullback punch.

Probable Standouts: End Pete Manning; Guard Nick Patella; Center Buck Jolly; Quarterback Norman Snead; Halfback Jerry Ball; Fullback Neil MacLean.

Promising Newcomers: End Bill Hull. End Bill Ruby. Tackle John Muse, Guard Carl Blum, Quarterback Chuck Reiley, Halfback Bill Burgess, Halfback Alan White, Fullback Craven Williams.

University of North Carolina

By JAKE WADE

An excellent spring practice, climaxed by exsiting performances in the Blue-White squad game, gave rise to optimism in football at North Carolina for 1959. The late coach Jim Tatum said: "It was three times the calibre of football we have played here in the spring before. We are looking forward with high expectations to the new season."

Newly appointed coach Jim Hickey has accepted the challenge to head the Tarheels.

Several key men were lost, including tackle Phil Blazer and center Ronnie Kocs, a pair of greats, but keen competition for berths has turned up an exceptional spirit and the squad looks to be sound, big and fast. Twenty-four returning lettermen include six of last year's starters. These are ends Al Goldstein and John Schroeder, guard Fred Mueller, quarterback Jack Cummings, halfback Wade Smith and fullback Don Klochak. Cummings was one of the nation's finest passers last year and Goldstein made the All-America team. The 1959 Tar Heels appear to be unusually strong in passing and kicking.

Rip (The Ripper) Hawkins, 6-3, 212, has All-American potential at center, where he will share the job with Jimmy Davis. Don Stallings, 243, and Earl (Moose) Butler, 238, are as good as any tackles. Rugged Fred Mueller, 216, was good enough to start as a sophomore guard last year. Guard Bob Shupin, a converted fullback, looks like a great find at his new position. If Goldstein and Shroeder aren't ready to handle the terminals, Mike Greenday, Jimmy Rice and Rabe Walton, lettermen all, will divide the chores with Charlie Rogers, ex-GI soph standout.

Nine of the 24 returning lettermen are backs. Dashin' Don Kloachak, 217, a human battering ram at fullback, is at his best in a broken field. He averaged 5.4 for 60 carries. Jack Cummings, who hit 68 of 134 passes for 1,139 yards and 11 TD's, is one of the slickest QB's in college ranks. With Cummings missing Spring drills because of an attack of yellow jaundice, Henry (Skip) Clement developed into a superior field general. Soph Ray Farris is slated for stardom. Wade Smith, who rushed 102 times for a 4.5 average, leads a bevy of hard-running halfbacks. Sonny Folckomer promises to come into his own after shaking off a leg injury and the sophomore jinx.

University of South Carolina

By DON BARTON

Head coach Warren Giese, whose Gamecocks won 19 and lost 11 during his first three seasons at South Carolina, must replace two halfbacks who were starters for him during those three productive years. They are Alex Hawkins, voted the ACC's "player-of-the-year" last fall, and King Dixon, given the award as the Gamecocks' most valuable player.

The halfback problem joins the search for a topnotch quarterback and replacements for the 1958 first and second unit centers as big assignments to be faced.

The Gamecocks should come up with another solid line, and, if the backfield shapes-up properly, South Carolina could again be a top contender for the Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Among the prospects for filling the halfback positions are Joe Gomes, Steve Kopian and Jim Bowman of last year's squad, Jimmy Hunter, voted the outstanding junior varsity back, and several members of the 1958 freshman team.

At quarterback lettermen Harvey Shiflet, Buddy Bennett and Steve Satterfield will be contenders, but freshman David Sowell, a service veteran, could move in.

Jim Nemeth, a promising transfer from the University of Toledo, could ease the center problem. He'll compete with returnees John Gordon and Bobby Long, the latter out with a knee injury most of last season.

Depth at tackle could be a problem, but Kirk Phares, a second-unit guard at the end of last season, has been moved back to tackle to help the situation.

Fullback is no problem, with the great John Saunders ready for another season, backed up by capable Phil Lavoie and Bob Farmer, plus contributions from the freshman squad.

Conley Taylor, a red shirt, may figure into the end situation, with first-stringer Jerry Frye and lettermen Jim Duncan and Jack Pitt. Taylor is a 200-pounder from Richmond, Va.

The guard positions are in pretty good hands, with capable Jake Bodkin back from last year's squad, along with Jack Ashton, Ken Derriso and Wayne Shiflet. Don Miles, a red shirt who transferred from Kansas State, is a bright newcomer to the position.

Defensively, the Gamecocks should be solid. Only one team—Army—scored more than two touchdowns against them last fall, and they held six of their opponents to one touchdown or less.

Offensively, power should again be the by-word, with possible changes in the overall system being effected by Giese and his staff before the Sept. 19 opener with Duke.

The schedule is arranged slightly better than in 1958, when the Gamecocks had to face a gauntlet of Duke, Army, Georgia, North Carolina, Clemson and Maryland in the first six games. They won three of those contests and finished by taking their final four in a row.

U.S. Naval Academy

By JOHN T. COX

Navy will have a new head coach this Fall, but the Middies' style of play will be "basically the same." That's the word from Wayne Hardin, successor to Eddie Erdelatz at the Academy. "The things we have done in the past have been staff efforts. We will carry out the offensive plans mapped in spring drills. The staff has worked closely together on it. This is our thinking and we'll go with it. I plan few changes," Hardin says.

"I think we are going to have a very good ball club. Our players are very enthusiastic. They like the stuff we introduced in the spring. We have an excellent leader in Center Jim Dunn, our Captain. I am eager for this opportunity and anxious to meet the challenge," the 32-year-old Navy grid leader declares.

The Midshipmen will go all-out in platooning this year. They will employ a starting team, a replacement team and a second or reserve unit. There will be no such thing as a first team.

"We plan on using the starting unit and the replacement outfit approximately 7½ minutes each quarter. Under our system our best players will be sprinkled through the starting and replacement teams. Usually the best 11 men are found on the first team. This way the two teams will be about even in strength and therefore eliminate the drop that normally takes place through substitution. It will give more boys a chance to play football," Hardin explained.

This plan differs from the three-team system used successfully by Paul Dietzel at L.S.U. last year. Unlike the renowned "Chinese Bandits" of L.S.U. who were defensive specialists and never played offense, none of Navy's three outfits will specialize. "Each team will be expected to do the job well on both offense and defense," Hardin explained.

Navy has 15 lettermen returning from its '58 squad which posted a 6-3 record. Last year's starters returning are End Tom Albershart, Tackles Larry Boyer and Bill Thomas, Center and Captain-elect Jim Dunn, Quarterback Joe Tranchini and Left Halfback Joe Bellino. Eleven letter-winners will be lost through graduation, including Guards George Fritzing and Don Chomicz, End John Kanuch, Halfback Dick Dagampat and Fullback Ray Wellborn from the first unit.

"We are fortunate in having two experienced quarterbacks of about equal ability. Both Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield won their letters last year and we are confident that either of them can do the job. Both men would be welcome additions to any football team in the nation," Hardin says.

Clemson College

By BOB BRADLEY

Coach Frank Howard, who will field his 20th Clemson team, believes the outlook is good for another outstanding team. But he is quick to point out that every opponent on the 1959 slate will also be stronger. The Tigers have two of their toughest games in a space of 15 days, opening with North Carolina Sept. 19 and Georgia Tech Oct. 3 with Virginia sandwiched in the middle.

There are 23 lettermen listed on the 1959 squad, but there is a possibility that end Jack Webb and halfback Sonny Quesenberry will sit out the season due to injuries received last season.

The Tigers are fortified at end with three lettermen and one of the best crops of sophomores ever to hit the campus. Junior Sam Anderson and sophomore Gary Barnes were the first team flankmen after spring practice.

At tackle there are three lettermen with Harold Olson, Lou Cordileone and Jack Smith leading the way. Cordileone should be the outstanding lineman on the team and one of the best in Clemson history. Jimmy King and Ronnie Osborne were both held out last year and add depth to tackle.

Four lettermen guards, all rising juniors, give the interior line good depth with Dave Lynn and Larry Wagner running first, just ahead of Dave Olson and Sammy Crout.

There is only one letterman center, Paul Snyder, and this is one of Clemson's shallowest spots as far as experience goes. Sophomores Ron Andreo and Jack Veronee back up Snyder.

Quarterback has the 1-2-3 boys of '58 back in Harvey White, Lowndes Shingler and Johnnie Mac Goff. White had a shoulder operation this spring, and it proved successful. White and Goff are seniors, Shingler a junior.

Doug Cline is about it at fullback. He was Clemson's leading ground gainer in '58 and is being backed by sophomore Ron Scrudato and letterman Doug Daignault, who switched from halfback during spring drills.

University of Virginia

By DICK TURNER

"We will have a young team which will have to grow up under fire. But green as we are, we will have more individual size. We also will have better team speed." —Dick Voris.

Only 9 of Va.'s '58 lettermen, fewest in recent memory, will be returning, but they will have the company of a sizeable group of sophomores, foremost of whom are Ron Gassert, tackle, and Ted Denby, HB. Major losses are Reece Whitley, QB, who ranked high in total offense when he was hurt in the 4th game last season, and Ulmo Randle, one of the outstanding pass catchers of the year.

Ends—Brrery Jones, lone letterman, and Smythe Wood, Sr., won first team recognition in spring practice. Soph. additions include Park Plank, Edward Menzer, Terry Canale and Timothy Hapgood, headed by Plank.

Tackles—Ron Gassert, tabbed as the squad's outstanding lineman as a soph., and John Marlow, unlettered Jr., were first comers in spring practice. There are 2 lettermen, Bob Carlisle and Wayne Whelan, who started several times last year. Other sophs. of note include Henry Koehler, Bill Kanto, Dick Fogg and Gardner Smith. Both game starters probably will be new.

Guards—Louis Martig, only letterman, and Glen Sacco, soph., are the indicated selections over Roger Zensen, unlettered Sr. and Ted Green, Jim Johnson and John Docherty, sophs. Both guards will be new as starters.

Centers—The fixture is Bob Edwards, who moved into the starting lineup in the early stages of last season. No. 2 is Emory Thomas, freshman regular last year and regarded as an excellent varsity line prospect.

Quarterbacks—Arnold Dempsey is back for his second varsity season. Played regularly during the last half of last season, finishing as ACC's leading passer in number of completions. Back of him are Jr. Wayne Ballard, a fine punter, and Stanwood Fischer and Ted Kempinski, who divided the freshman quarterbacking last year.

Halfbacks—Ted Denby, big and fast, is the brightest ball-carrying prospect as a sophomore. His running mate may be George Toth. Freshman regular in '57 who was ineligible last year. Two lettermen are Tom Gravins and Fred Shepherd. Also back from last year's varsity squad are Skip Weitz and Gary Pritchard, who were prominent in spring practice. Other sophs, who may be heard from are Tony Sepp, John Storkerson, Joe Board and Hunter Falconer, Jr., Sepp and Board having less than 10-second speed and Storkerson being about even.

Fullback—John Barger, game starter all last season as a sophomore, will get strong support and competition from Harold Rust and Tony Ulehla, superior sophomore prospects.

North Carolina State

By BILL HENSLEY

The Wolfpack expects to have a good football team in 1959, despite a lack of experience among the reserves. The probable starting team has a letterman at each position, except quarterback. But that spot will be filled by Roman Gabriel, one of the most promising players in State College history.

At the end of spring practice there were 44 sophomores on the 75-man squad, and seven starters from the 1958 team were missing. But a lot was accomplished during the off-season drills, and the newcomers who will fill key positions this fall performed admirably.

The '59 Wolfpack will be a dangerous club, sparked by the sensational passing of Gabriel and a ground attack which features halfbacks Claude Gibson, Ron Podwika, Randy Harrell, and Bernie Latusick, and fullbacks Arnold Nelson and Jim D'Antonio.

Up front, State will rely upon a rugged line anchored by tackles Kelly Minyard and Dick (Tiny) Reynolds, guard Frank Marocco and center Paul Balonick.

The Wolfpack is anxious to make up for a disappointing season in 1958, caused by an abundance of injuries to key players. The squad has good spirit and is overflowing with optimism.

Coach Earle Edwards says, "Lack of game experience among the reserves will be our biggest problem, but I can't help but be optimistic as I look forward to 1959. We will play a lot of good teams, thereby giving us an opportunity to show what we can do against the nation's top clubs. We want to win and if desire is any criterion, we will be a contender."

HENRY PONIATOWSKI, 25, 6-1, 186, Sophomore from Syracuse, N. Y.—one of the real good newcomers up for the varsity this fall and one whom Nugent is looking to for a lot of fine football the next three seasons . . . "Hank" is the "Daddy" of the young Terp squad . . . following his graduation from Eastwood High and a year's work, he served four years in the Army . . . he came to Maryland from nearby Fort Lee . . . his visits to the campus were many while in the service . . . he was first team all-Army as an end and on the Washington Post all-Service eleven . . . had a good freshman season and looked most impressive in spring drills . . . has tremendous determination and wants to play . . . will be a top candidate for top job . . . most adequate both ways . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

JOE MONA, 19, 6-1, 172, Sophomore from Camp Springs, Md.—the hard working likable Mona is one of the most highly sought after and most publicized football players to come to Maryland in many years . . . his many high school honors read like many of the Terp all-Americans of the past . . . that goal for the star youngster could be realized during his three years with Nugent . . . made a tremendous impression in spring practice following an unusually successful and brilliant freshman year . . . Mona represents one of the finest all-around athletes on the squad and one of the most conscientious and easiest to coach . . . a fine receiver with good speed . . . blocks well . . . exceptional defensive strength for his size . . . quiet and determined . . . could be one of Terps' bright stars on the horizon . . . seems a sure bet for future stardom . . . Mona represents one of St. John's greatest names in the history of the famous Washington Prep school . . . he was selected to the Prep-High School All-America football team and played in the first high school all-Americans versus the Big 33 of Pennsylvania all-stars in Hershey, Pa. . . . was the star defensive player in this game . . . was named on the first teams on the all-City selection; the all-Catholic team; the all-prep first teams as selected by the Washington News, Post and Times-Herald, and Star; and was also first team on the all-Metropolitan team selected by the same three newspapers . . . he still holds the record for most passes received in one season, 1958 . . . he also was a three year letterman in three other sports and named to the all-star teams selected in baseball, basketball, and track . . . one to watch closely for future stardom . . . in school of Business and Public Administration, majoring in Real Estate and Insurance.

GARY COLLINS, 19, 6-2, 200, Sophomore from Williamstown, Pa.—another of the Terps' prize packages up from the freshman team . . . the lean Collins is an outstanding receiver and the finest punter on the team . . . was a three-sport star at Williamstown High . . . came to Maryland after having offers from a great number of schools . . . a definite threat as a receiver with a fine pair of hands and long reach . . . was all-Conference his junior and senior year . . . was all-Twin Valley selection . . . honorable mention all-State . . . was all-Conference basketball player . . . star baseball player also . . . married and has a son . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

JOHN GIANNETTI, 19, 6-1, 177, Sophomore from Mt. Rainier, Md.—came up with a fine spring practice . . . one of the unnoticed from the freshman team who had everyone noticing him during the spring . . . could be one of the real fine surprises of the team . . . should help a great deal . . . looked exceptionally good defensively . . . was an honorable mention all-Prep, all-Metropolitan, and all-Catholic at Archbishop Carroll High School . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

DON TRUST, 18, 6-1, 176, Sophomore from Bel Air, Md.—another boy up from the freshman eleven who impressed during spring drills . . . will be one to watch for some important help at the end spot . . . fine prospect . . . his brother Bill star performer for Terp baseball team . . . Don was all-County, captain of the team, and honorable mention all-State . . . in School of Engineering, majoring in chemical engineering.

Holly High star has blazing speed labeling him as a dangerous break-away type back that will see a lot of duty . . . one of the real good finds of the '58 rookie crop . . . with his speed, he is a strong type runner and hard to bring down . . . cuts well . . . made an exceptional showing defensively also . . . could be a real package of dynamite . . . made a brilliant record at Mt. Holly High . . . he is the only five-sport letterman in the history of the school . . . lettered in football, baseball, basketball, track, and tennis . . . was all-South Jersey in football and honorable mention all-State . . . was all-Delaware County and all-Burlington County . . . was voted the best football player two years; best baseball player three years; and was voted the best athlete award his senior year . . . another to watch closely . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

BOB GALLAGHER, 20, 5-10, 170, Junior from Pittsburgh, Pa.—here is a boy who loves to play football and wants to play 60-minutes each game . . . he has outstanding two-way ability which makes him a top candidate to realize his ambition . . . the equipment, physical and mental is there . . . another fine player from the highly respected North Catholic High in Pittsburgh . . . came to Maryland with a terrific reputation and fabulous high school records . . . definitely one of the finer halfbacks to hit the Terp camp . . . starred as a freshman . . . lettered as a substitute last fall as a soph . . . carried 14 times for 56 yards for a 4-yard average . . . caught six passes for 100 yards . . . punted twice for 32.5 yard average . . . led the team in kickoff return yardage with five for 113 yards returned for a respectable 22.6 yard average . . . had a real fine spring practice and made a most indelible impression on Nugent and staff . . . a quiet hard worker with top attitude . . . is the rough-tough hard running power type ball carrier . . . has real good speed to go along with a powerful pair of legs . . . cracks hard and tough to bring down . . . also an efficient crisp blocker . . . fine receiver and punter . . . excels defensively also . . . should be one of the best with Nugent . . . stardom isn't too much to expect of this top-notch player . . . a perfectionist with intense desire and determination . . . one to watch closely . . . was all-City and won the most valuable player award and was team captain . . . lettered three years in boxing and baseball . . . was a boxing champion of the City High Schools . . . was salutatorian of his class, was school president, and president of the student council . . . in School of Business and Public Administration, majoring in Public Relations.

DON VanREENAN, 21, 5-9, 175, Sophomore from Marlinton, West. Va.—this little guy, after working for a year following high school graduation and not being hounded by college scouts, dropped into the Terp camp following his discovery by assistant coach Whitey Doveil and has caused the biggest explosion in a long time . . . it has stayed that way since and there is every reason to believe that his name will hit the national scene over night . . . the squat but powerfully built rookie is believed to be the fastest halfback in Maryland history . . . this is just what the doctor ordered and Nugent and staff have a bag full of medicine ready to cure with . . . in this bag are footballs and they are for VanReenan to tuck under his arm and take off for those precious six points, which he can do . . . performed brilliantly in spring practice . . . has the ground speed of an air "jet" . . . many many times he broke loose for long touchdowns and long gains . . . his speed is so explosive that he is by the defender in a split second if there is a shadow of daylight for him to go through . . . once in the open, he seems untouchable and uncatchable . . . a powerful boy who runs with initial power to start himself . . . once loose, his chances for the big one are good . . . his speed is realized by one of his track performances . . . in the Indoor Conference Track meet this past winter, he broke Dave Sime's record for the Freshman Indoor 60-yard dash . . . VanReenan streaked the challenge in 6.3 seconds breaking Sime's mark of 6.4 seconds . . . one to watch . . . he could easily become the one to change the picture . . . he should hear out the rave notices his young career has given him . . . he could help overnight . . . seems as though future honors can't elude him . . . will be exciting to watch . . . was on the all-St te Class B first team selection at Marlin-ton High . . . also lettered in Baseball three years . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

GENE VERARDI, 21, 5-10, 165, Senior from Freeport, Pa.—another of the exciting exceptionally fast halfbacks that Nugent likes and will want to see him go . . . he too can scamper . . . very quiet, serious hard worker with the ambition to play a lot of football, which he is capable of doing . . . has blazing speed and can give you the break-away run the new Terp offense offers . . . Verardi had a great freshman year that broke into the headlines as a soph . . . he came up with an average junior year . . . has outstanding potential which is bound to show playing . . . an unusual running style accompanies his speed . . . most deceptive . . . has the quickness and sharpness to do a fine job cutting and faking . . . his fakes are something to watch as he is streaking downfield . . . the defender finds himself in real trouble . . . has tremendous outside speed and goes like a deer once he hits daylight downfield . . . compact size, speed, and strong running power makes him a difficult target to tackle . . . a dangerous ball carrier . . . a good passer also . . . a good target for passes because of his speed . . . he has knack of getting behind defenders to be open target for the pass . . . fine punter also . . . used last fall with his quick kick weapon . . . did a good job with them . . . averaged 35.8 yards for 12 kicks . . . as a soph, he won ACC "Soph of the Week" honors and nominated another . . . had a 4.4 running average as a soph and 2.1 last year on 55 carries for 116 yards . . . was one for one passing good for four yards . . . caught 8 for 63 yards . . . intercepted two . . . returned two punts for seven yards . . . returned three kickoffs for 43 yards . . . was a quarterback at Freeport where he led the team that he captained to an undefeated season . . . highly touted prospect . . . was all-WPIAL, Class A . . . co-captain of basketball and baseball teams also . . . was named to the West all-Star team in basketball . . . fine student . . . made the national academic all-America team last year, was on the Dean's List and a member of the ACC all-academic team . . . in School of Education, majoring in Mathematics and minoring in Science.

OTHER TOP HALFBACK CANDIDATES UP FROM THE FRESHMAN TEAM ARE

RONALD MACE, 19, 5-11, Sophomore from Williamstown, Pa., and BILL NOONAN, 19, 5-8, 168, Sophomore from Silver Spring, Md.

FULLBACKS

JIM JOYCE, 21, 5-10, 190, Senior from Philadelphia, Pa.—although he missed some of spring practice, Nugent saw enough of his great fullback Joyce to be most happy about him . . . the outstanding potential Joyee has packed in his Atlas built frame could be a big factor in the outcome of the season . . . he came to Maryland as a much heralded star and has played brilliantly for the Terps, but his cause needs some victories and he is all set to cap his grid career with smashing success . . . he has had two good years, averaging three yards as a soph and he led the Terp ball carriers in '58 with 4.2 rushing mark for 97 carries and 406 yards . . . he represents the lone returning backfield starter from last season . . . Joyce could and should be the best fullback in the league and in many other areas . . . touted to the hilt when he enrolled at Maryland, the rock-like fullback has responded enough to establish him as one of the better fullbacks . . . in his first Varsity-Alumni game, he was named the big star of the game . . . with a good senior performance, he could attain the fame predicted for him . . . the powerfully built Joyce from Bishop Neumann High where he did everything and won every honor, is a great pile-driving bull-dozing type runner . . . a crack at the line always means three yards or more . . . his power packed legs afford him the ability to drag tacklers with him . . . he is a murderous line plunger . . . he batters the line with reckless abandon . . . he also excels on defense . . . a hard and sure tackler . . . likes to mix it up . . . a tremendous blocker . . . it looks like the swipe of a scythe as he blocks . . . scored once last year, twice as a soph . . . caught two aeri-als . . . had one kickoff return for 15 yards . . . one of the game's most powerful ball carriers . . . should be a great one . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

KEN HOUSER, 21, 6-0, 185, Sophomore from Palmyra, Pa.—it won't take long for the word to get out on Houser . . . it could come Sept. 19 when the Terps open the season against West Virginia . . . here is a boy who should be a great football player and a great star for three years for the Terps . . . he, along with the veteran Joyce and a couple other newcomers, Pat Drass and Bruce Coultas, noted below, gives Maryland its greatest fullback strength in many years . . . all are outstanding football players . . . Houser represents one of the BEST . . . Nugent has tabbed him as one of the finest looking football players he ever has seen and has labeled him as a future great after having his heart warmed many times while watching him show so magnificently in spring practice . . . an outstanding prospect . . . is a fabulous hard runner with tremendous power and great speed . . . he delights in hitting with authority . . . if he gets daylight after shattering a defender, his speed makes him a dangerous threat . . . could be another of the real finds and early season sensations . . . a strong defensive player . . . the serious soft-spoken Houser loves the game . . . easy to coach . . . has intense desire and determination . . . was all-Conference his junior and senior year . . . also lettered in basketball, baseball, and track . . . was all-county in basketball . . . won track award for scoring highest number of points in county track meet . . . was class officer all four years . . . another to watch closely . . . will definitely make an indelible impression and an impressive debut . . . in School of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health.

PAT DRASS, 18, 5-10, 181, Sophomore from Philadelphia, Pa.—if the Terps are going to have outstanding depth at the fullback slot, and possibly the greatest strength at that position in a long time, this newcomer is an outstanding candidate to provide some sensational play and help . . . he definitely will be ready to step in and make his bid for the position, which he could have . . . that is how good Drass is . . . here is another boy destined to be one of the finest in Maryland . . . Drass represents one of the finest looking prospects to hit the Terp camp also . . . he has tremendous football ability . . . highly sought after . . . responded to his reputation with a great freshman year . . . he followed it with a strong showing in spring practice . . . a powerfully built boy for his 5-10 frame . . . a very noticeable and eye-catching type ball carrier . . . has real good speed that he uses well . . . also can batter the line with a full blast of steam . . . most effective blocker and extremely hard-nosed defensively . . . real fine tackler . . . was all-Catholic selection at Bishop Neumann High where he was big star . . . he followed his high school teammate, Joyce, to the position . . . now for the Terps the identical healthy situation occurs . . . was honorable mention all-America and honorable mention all-Scholastic . . . an honor student . . . class officer . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

BRUCE COULTAS, 19, 6-0, 183, Sophomore from Madison, N.J.—still another of the outstanding prospects up from the freshman team where he had a top-flight year . . . caught the eye of Nugent and staff during spring practice with his standout play . . . he comes along to give the Terp fullback play the finest prospects in a long time . . . one of the most sought after players in New Jersey . . . expected to be one of the best . . . a definite candidate for all-star honors . . . slated to see a lot of duty . . . the chance will be given for it is known that he is one of the finest all-around backs . . . the potential is there and with experience should be realized . . . a fine runner with good speed . . . hits hard and effectively . . . a top defensive boy who likes to hit hard . . . blocks well . . . highly recommended . . . was all-State and all-County . . . also all-Conference . . . was voted the most valuable player award . . . also lettered in baseball and basketball . . . was all-conference and all-County in baseball . . . was class officer soph. and junior years . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

Cross for another year. Then in '47 he came to Maryland and has been head trainer ever since.

A Navy veteran, Wyre served as physical education instructor in the V-12 program.

He was the first president of the Southern Conference Trainers' Assn. He previously has been on the board of the National Trainers' Assn. and now his most recent appointment, Chairman of the Board. In '49, he was named the top trainer in the East.

fullback. Up front, to go along with the veteran interior linemen, Vincent Scott and Tony Scotti, second team ends in '58, will be the flankmen with Shaffer.

In the backfield, other lettermen returnees include a trio of stand-out halbacks, Gene Verardi, Everett Cloud, and Bob Gallagher. Up front, center Leroy Dietrich returns along with guards Bill Lazaro and Pete Boinis; and tackles Joe Gardi, Tom Flor, and Bob Cole.

Newcomers to watch from last year's freshman team include ends Henry Poniatowski, Gary Collins, and Joe Mona; tackles Bill Kirchiro, Tom Sankovich, and Dick Barlund; guards Tom Laird and Tom Broumel; and center Jack Reilly. In the backfield, the best along with Van-Reenan, Novak and Henry should be fullbacks Ken Houser, Pat Drass, and Bruce Coultas, and halfback Jim Davidson.

From the '58 B squad, a great deal of help will come from guard Jim Loff and tackle George Draksler.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

The history of the present University is the history of two institutions: the old privately-owned and operated University of Maryland in Baltimore and the Maryland State College (formerly Maryland Agricultural College) at College Park. These institutions were merged in 1920.

In 1807, the College of Medicine of Maryland was organized, the fifth medical school in the United States. The first class was graduated in 1810. A permanent home was established in 1814-1815 by the erection of the building at Lombard and Green Streets in Baltimore, the oldest structure in America devoted to medical teaching. Here was founded one of the first medical libraries (and the first medical school library) in the United States. In 1812 the General Assembly of Maryland authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to "annex or constitute facilities of divinity, law, and arts and science," and by the same act declared that the "colleges or faculties thus united should be constituted an university by the name and under the title of the University of Maryland." By authority of this act, steps were taken in 1813 to establish "a faculty of law," and in 1823 a regular school of instruction in law was opened. Subsequently there were added: in 1882 a Department of Dentistry which was absorbed in 1923 by the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (founded in 1840, the first dental school in the world); in 1889 a School of Nursing; and in 1904 the Maryland College of Pharmacy (founded in 1841, the third oldest pharmacy college in the United States).

The Maryland State College was chartered in 1856 under the name of the Maryland Agricultural College, the second agricultural college in the Western Hemisphere. For three years the College was under private management. In 1862 the Congress of the United States passed the Land Grant Act. This act granted each State and Territory that should claim its benefits an appropriate amount of unclaimed western lands, in place of scrip, the proceeds from the sale of which should apply under certain conditions to the "endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such a manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life." This grant was accepted by the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Maryland Agricultural College was named as the beneficiary of the grant. Thus the College became, at least in part, a State institution. In the fall of 1914 control was taken over entirely by the State. In 1916 the General Assembly granted a new charter to the College, and made it the Maryland State College.

In 1920, by an act of the State Legislature, the University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College, and the resultant institution was given the name University of Maryland.

all-American football team. Too, he was named to the Wigwam All-America team his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society.

Following graduation, he entered Florida State in the fall of 1953. He won letters in football and baseball four years, with freshmen eligible to play then.

For his brilliant play, honors were many. He was on the all-State Florida colleges team his junior and senior year. He was named as all-America honorable mention his senior year, a most cherished honor inasmuch as Corso was the first Florida State football player to receive that high rating in the history of the school. He was voted the National Player of the Week by INS for his sterling performance in guiding the upset over N.C. State. He was voted the "Back of the Week" honors among Florida schools several times. His grid career was capped by his winning the Athlete of the Year award at Florida State. The 23-year-old Corso also played in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery as quarterback. At FSU, he set the total rushing record; most pass interceptions one game, 3; pass receiving record for one game, 8, as he played halfback part of his second season; and has the high mark for kickoff return average for a season, 35 yards.

On the diamond, Corso was an all-State and all-District 3 outfielder. With the Seminoles, he played in the District 3 playoffs two years. He hit .400 as a freshman.

Corso was voted a member of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), national men's honorary leadership fraternity and Phi Delta Kappa, national education honorary. He graduated in June '57 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education.

Nugent appointed him assistant coach following graduation. He pursued his Master's Degree and received it in August 1958 in Education and Administration.

He married the former Betsy Youngblood, Tampa, Fla. They have one son, Steven Lee, age, 1.

tackle as a freshman and two varsity seasons prior to his entering the Army in February, 1943. While in the service, he served with the 90th Infantry Division in the European Theater of Operations. He was discharged in January of 1946.

He returned to Vanderbilt for the spring term of '46. He was elected Captain of the team for his senior year. He won third team all-America honors and first team all-Southeast Conference. He graduated in June of '47 with a Bachelor of Science in History.

Satterfield then went to the San Francisco 49'ers and played tackle for one year.

In 1948, he coached at Little Rock Catholic High School. The fall of 1949 he got the call to be an assistant coach at Louisiana State and stayed two years. It was in the spring of 1951 that he went to V.P.I. and stayed until the call to College Park.

He married the former Bobbie Sue Wright of Forest City, Ark. They have a daughter, Susan, age, 7.

and in an underwater demolition team.

In 1947, he was appointed Athletic Director, football coach, and wrestling coach of Bullis Prep School. While there, he played defense for the Mt. Washington lacrosse team of Baltimore. In the fall of 1948, he went to Virginia as assistant football coach, assistant wrestling coach, and head lacrosse coach. Then in 1950 and 1951, he was head football coach at Johns Hopkins. He has been in business since in Baltimore, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and most recently in Tampa.

It was while at Tampa that he scouted future Florida State opponents for Nugent. The Terp coach considers him as one of the very best and most thorough scouts.

Guy is a native of Pittsburgh. His family home is Mansfield, Ohio. He is married and has a son Charles 12, and daughter Kathy, eight.

obligation prevented his signing a contract.

He was drafted into the service in August of 1956. He was assigned to Fort Bliss, Tex., and put in his two years of duty there. He played baseball for the base team and was an assistant football coach and scout for the Ft. Bliss grid teams.

Following his discharge he joined Nugent and his staff at Florida State where he was the 1958 freshman coach. Then the move to Maryland with Nugent.

Conference and the all-Southern team. He was president of the varsity letterman "G" Club and of the Student Athletic Council. His teammates voted him the most valuable lineman trophy for his outstanding play his senior year.

Following graduation, he went to Fitzgerald High School, Ga., as line coach. He was there one year before moving on to the line coaching job at Albany High in 1950. In 1951, he was appointed head coach, and held that position until Nugent brought him to Maryland. At Albany, he compiled the enviable record of 57 wins, 20 losses, and three ties in a Triple-A league. His teams won the Region 1, AAA crown three years and was runnerup to the state championship in 1952. He was voted region Coach of the Year twice. He points with justified pride at the great number of his boys that have gone on to college and done exceptionally well.

Reid married the former Kathryn Herold of Hamilton. They have two daughters, Karolyn, 10, and Paula, 8.
